WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

with any of the secondary cards.

13

A method for transferring funds from the United States to one or more 1 1. nationals located in a country regulated by the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) of 2 the U.S. Department of the Treasury using a primary/secondary card, comprising: 3 receiving an application for a primary card by a primary cardholder at a U.S. 4 financial institution, the primary cardholder being an American resident from the country 5 regulated by OFAC or a U.S. citizen having at least one relative who is a national located in 6 7 the country regulated by OFAC: 8 issuing a secondary card from the U.S. financial institution to each national 9 sponsored by the primary cardholder; providing a monetary limit on each secondary card in accordance with the 10 regulations set by OFAC; and 11 billing the primary cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods purchased 12

- A method for transferring funds as recited in claim 1, wherein the step of providing a monetary limit comprises providing two or more monetary limits on each secondary card, wherein a first monetary limit is set for one OFAC-regulated country and a second monetary limit is set for another OFAC-regulated country.
- 3. A method for transferring funds as recited in claim 1, further comprising receiving a remittance affidavit at the U.S. financial institution for each national that the primary cardholder intends to sponsor.

4. A method for transferring funds as recited in claim 1, further comprising issuing a primary card from the U.S. financial institution to the primary cardholder.

- 5. A method for transferring funds as recited in claim 4, further comprising providing a monetary limit on the primary card in accordance with a credit rating of the primary cardholder.
- 6. A method for transferring funds as recited in claim 4, further comprising billing the primary cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods purchased with the primary card.
- 7. A computer-implemented system for transferring funds from the United States to one or more nationals located in a country regulated by the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) of the U.S. Department of the Treasury using a primary/secondary card, the system comprising:

a memory configured to store instructions; and a processor configured to execute instructions for:

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

receiving an application for a primary card by a primary cardholder at a U.S. financial institution, the primary cardholder being an American resident from the country regulated by OFAC or a U.S. citizen having at least one relative who is a national located in the country regulated by OFAC, issuing a secondary card from the U.S. financial institution to each national sponsored by the primary cardholder, providing a monetary limit on each secondary card in accordance with

3

14	the regulations set	by OFAC, and billing the primary cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods purchased with any of the secondary cards.

- 8. A computer-implemented system for transferring funds as recited in claim 7, wherein the instructions for providing a monetary limit comprises providing two or more monetary limits on each secondary card, wherein a first monetary limit is set for one OFACregulated country and a second monetary limit is set for another OFAC-regulated country.
- 9. A computer-implemented system for transferring funds as recited in claim 7, wherein the processor is further configured to execute instructions for receiving a remittance affidavit at the U.S. financial institution for each national that the primary cardholder intends to sponsor.
- 1 10. A computer-implemented system for transferring funds as recited in claim 7, wherein the processor is further configured to execute instructions for issuing a primary card from the U.S. financial institution to the primary cardholder.
- 1 11. A computer-implemented system for transferring funds as recited in claim 10, wherein the processor is further configured to execute instructions for providing a monetary limit on the primary card in accordance with a credit rating of the primary cardholder.
 - 12. A computer-implemented system for transferring funds as recited in claim 10, wherein the processor is further configured to execute instructions for billing the primary

1

2

3 cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods purchased with the primary card.

13. 1 A computer-implemented method for transferring funds from the United States to one or more nationals located in a country regulated by the Office of Foreign Assets 2 Control (OFAC) of the U.S. Department of the Treasury using a primary/secondary card, 3 4 comprising: 5 receiving an application for a primary card by a primary cardholder at a U.S. financial institution, the primary cardholder being an American resident from the country 6 regulated by OFAC or a U.S. citizen having at least one relative who is a national located in 7 8 the country regulated by OFAC; issuing a secondary card from the U.S. financial institution to each national 9 10 sponsored by the primary cardholder; providing a monetary limit on each secondary card in accordance with the 11 12 regulations set by OFAC; and billing the primary cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods purchased 13 14 with any of the secondary cards.

- 1 14. A computer-implemented method for transferring funds as recited in claim 13,
 2 wherein the step of providing a monetary limit comprises providing two or more monetary
 3 limits on each secondary card, wherein a first monetary limit is set for one OFAC-regulated
 4 country and a second monetary limit is set for another OFAC-regulated country.
- 1 15. A computer-implemented method for transferring funds as recited in claim 13, 2 further comprising receiving a remittance affidavit at the U.S. financial institution for each

3 national that the primary cardholder intends to sponsor.

1 16. A computer-implemented method for transferring funds as recited in claim 13,

2 further comprising issuing a primary card from the U.S. financial institution to the primary

3 cardholder.

2

2

2

3

4

7

8

10

1 17. A computer-implemented method for transferring funds as recited in claim 16, further comprising providing a monetary limit on the primary card in accordance with a credit

3 rating of the primary cardholder.

1 18. A computer-implemented method for transferring funds as recited in claim 16, further comprising billing the primary cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods

3 purchased with the primary card.

1 19. A computer readable medium that stores instructions executable by at least one processor to perform a method for transferring funds from the United States to one or more nationals located in a country regulated by the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) of the U.S. Department of the Treasury using a primary/secondary card, comprising instructions

5 for:

6 receiving an application for a primary card by a primary cardholder at a U.S.

financial institution, the primary cardholder being an American resident from the country regulated by OFAC or a U.S. citizen having at least one relative who is a national located in

9 the country regulated by OFAC;

issuing a secondary card from the U.S. financial institution to each national sponsored by the primary cardholder;

providing a monetary limit on each secondary card in accordance with the

- 13 regulations set by OFAC; and
- billing the primary cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods purchased
- with any of the secondary cards.
- 1 20. A computer readable medium as recited in claim 19, wherein the instructions
- 2 for providing a monetary limit comprises providing two or more monetary limits on each
- 3 secondary card, wherein a first monetary limit is set for one OFAC-regulated country and a
- 4 second monetary limit is set for another OFAC-regulated country.
- 1 21. A computer readable medium as recited in claim 19, further comprising
- 2 instructions for receiving a remittance affidavit at the U.S. financial institution for each
- 3 national that the primary cardholder intends to sponsor.
- 1 22. A computer readable medium as recited in claim 19, further comprising
- 2 instructions for issuing a primary card from the U.S. financial institution to the primary
- 3 cardholder.

1

- 1 23. A computer readable medium as recited in claim 22, further comprising
- 2 instructions for providing a monetary limit on the primary card in accordance with a credit
- 3 rating of the primary cardholder.
 - 24. A computer readable medium as recited in claim 22, further comprising

2 instructions for billing the primary cardholder for any cash distributed to or goods purchased with the primary card.